

ASSAIL ACCIDENT THEORY IN NEFF HEARING

NEW 3.2 BREW PLACED ON SALE IN SALEM TODAY

Salem Distributing Company Second to Get
"B" License

100 CASES MAKE UP
INITIAL SHIPMENT

Other Prospective Retailers Here Are Seeking Permits

The first shipment of the new 3.2 beer arrived in Salem at noon today, being placed on sale at a warehouse temporarily located on North Ellsworth ave., with sales limited to two cases to a customer.

One hundred cases of the amber fluid were brought to the city by the Salem Distributing company, incorporated at Columbus yesterday with J. Norman Kyle and John H.
Mahon as incorporators. Kyle was in charge of sales here this afternoon, reporting "business good".

Second to Get Permit

The Salem concern was the second in Ohio to be granted a "B" license by the Ohio commission and is the first local concern permitted to begin sales and deliveries.

The beer is sold at $2.25 a case with a deposit of $1 asked to insure return of bottles and cases.

Several prospective beer retailers went to Akron and Youngstown Thursday afternoon to file applications for licenses which they expect to receive late today or some time Saturday. Practically every one of them has ordered beer for delivery tomorrow.

Bottled beer should arrive here in large quantities within the next 24 hours but it will probably be a week or 10 days before steins will be filled with draught brew.

(By Associated Press)

The thump of the bung-starters on countless kegs drummed a long-lost beverage back to the American scene today.

Lawful 3.2 per cent beer gushed in territory populated by about 70-000,000 Americans as 19 states and the District of Columbia lifted a ban more than 13 years old.

Jubilee and jollity were widespread among friends of the beverage; its foes voiced criticism and warning.

President Gets Two Cases

Five minutes after beer became legal at midnight, a big truck, gay with festoons, rumbled to the service entrance of the White House, bearing two cases—a brewer's gift to the President. Mr. Roosevelt, who had retired, has indicated he will give the beer to friends.

On Broadway, New Yorkers patroned behind a hearse lettered
"Near Beer Is Dead" while a band in bright Bavarian uniforms played dirges and drinking songs. The brewers of the metropolis had refused to deliver before 6 a. m. But by 1 a. m. some hotels, cafes and restaurants had managed to get beer from New Jersey and elsewhere. Throongs celebrated. In speakeasies, where prices tumbled before the competition, customers toasted with "noble beer" and ginned the advent of legal brew.

It's "Surprisingly Good"

"Surprisingly good," said Chicago beer connoisseurs as they celebrated the "New Beer's Day" while 100-000 cases and 200,000 barrels sped to points of delivery there, cheering throongs crowded downtown streets.

"Give me something to eat," he

COUNTY SEEKS GARDEN FUNDS

Application For $10,000 Filed By Relief Committee With State;
Used For General Purposes

LISBON, April 7.—The Columbiana county relief committee will make application for approximately $10,000 from the State Relief Commission to be used in the development of relief garden tracts.

The average estimated cost of seed for family garden, 50 by 100 feet, has been placed at $2 while $4.50 has been given as the estimated cost of a rural garden. The recommendation of Extension Agent Floyd Lower, eliminates potatoes from the small garden but adds potatoes for a tract 50 by 100 feet.

Cost of plowing has not been included in these estimates, which, however, include fertilizer, and spraying and seed.

Two bushels of seed potatoes are recommended by Lower for a 50 by 100 foot plot.

20 years; there has been no board

The church building is to be razed and salvaged material will be used

HORSE RACING ACT IS LAW AS GOVERNOR SIGNS

State Commission Will Regulate and License
Ohio Sport

WILL TAX BETS,
LICENSE TRACKS

Enforcement of Act Left Up to Sheriffs of Counties

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—Governor George White today signed the "horse racing act" under which a state commission will regulate and license horse racing in Ohio and permit pari-mutuel or certificate methods of betting. A tax will be levied on bets and tracks will be licensed.

The governor pointed to what he termed two glaring errors in the language of the law. In one section the law reads that any member of the racing commission may be removed by the governor "for misfeasance, non-feasance and malfeasance of office." Under this clause, the executive said, it would be necessary to convict a commissioner of all three crimes. The word "or" should be substituted for
"and," he asserted.

Under another clause, an inspector for the commission would be paid "by the holder of the permit at whose racing track said representative shall serve." This pay, the governor said, should be by the state and not by a permit holder.

Provisions of Law

The law contains these provisions:
Sets up a state racing commission of three members, not more than two of whom shall be members of the same political party, to be named by the governor and to be paid from $2,500 to $3,600 a year.

The commission shall have the power to prescribe rules, regulations and conditions under which horse racing shall be conducted in the state and to issue, suspend, diminish or revoke permits to conduct horse racing.

Any person, association, corporation or trust desiring to conduct horse racing meetings where pari-mutuel or certificate systems of wagering is allowed, shall apply to the commission for a permit.

Horse racing is prohibited on Sundays. Running horse racing meets between the hours of noon and 7 p. m. and light harness race meets between noon and midnight.

Applicants must post bond of $100 for each day of racing.
At the close of each racing day the permit holder must pay to the state commission ten per cent of the first $1,000 in wagers; 15 per cent of the next $4,000, and 20 per cent all over $5,000.

Sheriffs Enforce Act

The law carries penalties for violations of not less than $1,000 and not more than $10,000, or imprisonment of not more than one year, or both.

County sheriffs are given the duty of enforcing the act.

Local option on racing is provided for counties, on petition of 35 per cent of the voters.

Rev. Mayer Speaks At Union Service

"Rebuilding Life's True Altars" was the theme used by Rev. S. A.

repaired the altar of the Lord that was broken down."

Altars that Rev. Mayer believes need repairing today are: "Spiritual Realism," "Moral Idealism" and "Christian Altruism."

Rev. J. V. Stephens, Alliance, pastor of the Presbyterian church there will speak at tonight's service at the Methodist church.

Columbiana County Schools Facing Curtailed Terms With Funds Short

Classes in Lisbon and Leetonia Scheduled to Suspend on Friday, May 19

With funds lacking to insure operation of schools for a nine-month term, shortened periods will prevail in the majority of Columbiana county districts this year.

Salem board of education members, still unable to set a definite date for the conclusion of the 1933 term, hope to continue until June 2, according to County Superintendent
H. C. Leonard, who also announced that eight-month rural schools will end terms on May 5.

The eighth grade commencement and declaiming contest for rural schools will be held in the David Anderson High school, Lisbon, June 16. The fifth-sixth and the seventh-eighth grade spelling contests for rural school pupils will also be held in the David Anderson high school April 15, commencing at 9:30
a. m.

Wellsville. The latter board is awaiting a report from the Ohio department of education relative to obtaining state relief, no funds being available to meet teachers' pay-rolls or to provide for current expenses.

Rural schools scheduled for nine-month terms will close June 2, according to County Superintendent
H. C. Leonard, who also announced that eight-month rural schools will end terms on May 5.

Arizona Trunk Slayer Awaiting Doom

Calmly reading, while every tick of the clock brings her nearer to the gallows, Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, condemned trunk murderer of Phoenix, Ariz., is pictured in the death cell in the State Prison at Florence, Ariz. Mrs. Judd's execution for the slaying of Mrs. Agnes Lerol was originally scheduled for April 14th, but as that date falls on Good Friday, Governor Meier granted a week's stay. A successful appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court is her only hope of life.

Given Injunction Against Strikers

(By Associated Press)
FINDLAY, O., April 7.—Foretelling anticipated violence on the part of striking pickets, officials of the Cooper Rubber corporation were granted a temporary injunction today preventing striking workers from interfering with or intimidating workers.

Workers at the plant walked out about 20 days ago protesting the wage scale. Early this week the factory reopened and since that time more than 200 men have been re-employed. The company formerly had a payroll of nearly 300 workers.

Forty-two warrants were served yesterday by deputy sheriffs after strikers gathered on company property.

STATE'S WITNESSES SUBMIT TESTIMONY

Coroner Hayes Admits He "Thought It Was Murder" at the Time but Signed Accidental Death Certificate

(By Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 7.—
George Chambers, nephew of Mrs.
Cyrus H. Neff, testified today in Neff's trial on a charge of murdering his wife that after using the defendant's shotgun he always left it "broken" and unloaded.

The defense has contended that Neff killed his wife accidentally, not knowing that a shotgun he pointed at her was loaded.

Disagrees With Neff
Dr. J. M. Ranz, who said he has handled shotguns all his life, testified that Mrs. Neff's wounds indicated that the gun was held from seven to ten feet away from her.

The state has quoted Neff as saying after the shooting that he had ticked Mrs. Neff's chin with the gun muzzle to awaken her as she lay asleep on a couch, and that the muzzle was only 10 inches from her head when the gun went off.

Mrs. Curtis Fishel, who did housework at the Neff home, testified that there was a spot of blood on the floor at the foot of the couch in addition to the blood at its head. She said Neff showed no emotion when he notified her to come and clean the house the day after the shooting, and said he worked that day as usual.

"Thought It Was Murder"
Dr. M. E. Hays, county coroner, admitted late yesterday that he thought at the time of the slaying it was murder, though he signed a certificate of accidental death.

Coroner Hayes' testimony was the most startling development in the trial in which the state, through Prosecutor J. H. Leighninger and Special Prosecutor A. M. Henderson, charge Neff with the "premeditated murder of his wife Blanche at their Canfield home last October 20."

A gasp went over the court room as Dr. Hayes gave his "murder" opinion and at indication that there might be applause from the crowd Judge Gessner threatened to "clear the court if there is any demonstration."

Dr. Hayes said that he signed the death certificate in order that the family might get a burial permit.

Mrs. F. P. Monroe, a sister of Mrs.
Neff, and Dr. Monroe told of being called to the Neff home a short time after the shooting. They testified that Neff appeared "cool and calm," and that he said at the time the gun "went off accidentally while he was trying to scare" Mrs.
Neff.

Clay Funeral Will Be Held On Sunday

The funeral services of J. C. Clay, Greenford florist, who died Thursday morning at the Salem City hospital, where he had been ill for more than eight weeks, will be held at the Arbaugh funeral home, East State st. at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, in charge of Rev. Royer, pastor of the Greenford Lutheran church. Interment will be in Hope cemetery.

Friends may call at the Clay home just west of Greenford, Saturday afternoon and evening.

Besides his lodge affiliations, Mr.
Clay had been active in grange work. He was a past master of Greenford grange, and had served as deputy master of Ohio State grange. He was a member of Oak-leaf temple, Pythian Sisters, Green-ford, and of the Aut-Morri Groto of Youngstown.

SCHOOLBOY SPIRIT

Those well meaning people who have been bemoaning the passive attitudes of American students toward things that really matter should not hold back praise for Chicago's courageous youth. Reports of walkouts of high school students protesting non-payment of salaries to teachers make interesting and, to some, encouraging reading.

One wonders naturally what is behind it all. Unfortunately, a long record of student lethargy in the presence of almost everything that would start a student revolution in countries where the level of political intelligence is low enough to make students appear as thinkers suggests the idea that Chicago's young men and women might be more interested in getting out of the classrooms than in getting back-pay for their teachers.

Then one wonders about the reasonableness of what has been done, too. Despite the fact that responsible officials are said to be responding with plans to raise money somewhere, it scarcely seems safe to presume that the teachers have been saved by threats of an uncontrollable youth movement. Rather, the movement probably has added another vexing embarrassment to a long list of embarrassments which all sensible Chicago residents seek to have removed as early as possible.

Everything considered, a lifted eyebrow and a quantity of mental reservations seem necessary to balanced consideration of this unexpected manifestation of under-age power in the Windy City. No nation and no city ever gained anything but broken heads and mud-died thinking from encouraging youth to pursue courses of violent social action.

With all consideration for the increase in knowledge which universal education is supposed to be bringing about, a cross-section of the student population reveals no more intelligence than a cross section of the general population. When deductions for immature age are made, it is painfully evident that the safest place for boys and girls who think they can think is in the restricted environment of the classroom. When and if they emerge, it is time to call out the truant officers.

IT'S A LIVING

Earl Derr Biggers, who died Wednesday in a Pasadena, Cal., hospital, had a lucky idea which he backed up with an abundance of writing ability to create an ample income for himself. He was one of the foremost figures in a contemporary group of men and women who have discovered that the world will pay generously to be amused.

The prolific writer of fiction who gets paid in proportion to the volume of his production is a comparatively recent figure. He is an accompaniment of the age which offers to human beings an opportunity to read endlessly at little or no price. In short, he is one of the beneficiaries of mass production and distribution.

Penny profits on his material mount into hundreds of thousands of dollars when it is made available to the whole world. If he is lucky enough or crafty enough to gain a devoted following, he is assured of more than an ample living as long as he can hold interest. Author Biggers' popular character, Charlie Chan, was a real money-maker. Now that he is gone, there is room for a successor.

Charlie, himself, was by way of being a successor to another great story-book character, Sherlock Holmes. Both were imperturbable detectives, flawless logicians and men of fearless action. Significantly, Sherlock is still quietly prodding about in other people's affairs. He has outlived his creator. Charlie joins him now. Together, they should be able to solve any crime. Such creations have a way of assuming proprietary rights over their masters' posthumous fame. Few readers can recall what Sir Arthur Conan Doyle wrote besides "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes" and its companion works. In a few years, Charlie Chan, if he proves as hale and hearty as Sherlock, will have become the familiar label of all the literary efforts of Earl Derr Biggers.

GOOD EXAMPLES!

Two examples of sound judgment that insure the future safety of Cincinnati were set yesterday at the initial meeting of solicitors who handle the larger gifts to the Community chest. These examples took the form of increases of 10 per cent in annual contributions to the Chest.

They were set by Charles F. Williams, president of the Western and Southern Life Insurance company and former chairman of the Community Chest, and officials of a local firm, who prefer to remain anonymous for the present. These examples were set for excellent reasons.

Officials of the Cincinnati firm increased their donation 10 per cent because, as they pointed out in a letter, the Community chest stabilizes the entire community and keeps the workmen of the city in condition to return to work on short notice. "We must keep our men in condition to go back to work," the letter pointed out. "And because we believe the Community chest can perform this service more efficiently and more economically than we can, we are increasing our contribution this year by 10 per cent."

Mr. Williams added that the success of the Community chest drive was not only to the interest of the community at large, but to the interest of the stockholders as well. He then pledged an increase of 10 per cent in the Western and Southern contribution.

Such increases in times of financial stress are commendable and would amount to nobility in self-sacrifice if they were not based on such sound reasons—reasons that will be apparent at once to every business man as the part of enlightened self-interest.

The examples are excellent. They should be followed by every firm and individual in the city in a position so to do. With the manifestation of such intelligence and under such conditions the Community Chest cannot fail.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

SHAW'S BOORISHNESS

George Bernard Shaw has landed and the situation is well in hand. He treated the mayor of San Francisco like a schoolboy. He jeered at the first American city he had seen. He quarreled pointedly with the photographers. He called the American people "remarkable infants." He told us that we drink because we are unhappy. He suggested that we either release Tom Mooney or shoot him. And he said that there really had been no need for him to visit America, because all interesting Americans come to see him.

These several boorish discourtesies, which it were charitable to dismiss as the vapors of a peevish senility, were eagerly pounced upon by hovering reporters and forthwith dispatched to all parts of the world as proof that Shaw is one of the transcendent minds of the period. But the Shawian method is simple enough. First get your reputation, then abuse it, and never not ever, permit yourself an indulgence in the common decencies of normal human relations. This always receives a hand.

It is fortunate, however, for the literary reputation of George Bernard Shaw that it rests upon qualities more substantial and genuine than the uttered inanities, and querulous complaints, and absurd posturings and prankings, which now pass with him for wit, humor and satire. A more serious case of aggravated egotism never was permitted to run at large. He is as one afflicted by heaven, and, like the Arabs, we ought so to consider it.—Zanesville Times-Recorder.

MILWAUKEE — Mrs. Elaine Malm's nervousness resulted in a fine time on disorderly conduct charges. Two policemen, who arrested her for a traffic violation, testified she kicked them when they sought to cut off the ignition switch. "Why the kicking?" inquired Judge George E. Page. "Oh, I was just nervous," said Mrs. Malm.

In German Rift

Dietrich Klagges, Nazi Minister of the Interior of Brunswick, whose action in suppressing throughout that state the Steel Helmet League of monarchist war veterans indicates an ominous rift in the ranks of the party now in power in Germany. The Steel Helmets were allied with the Nazis in winning control of the country at the last elections.

Day
by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE.

NEW YORK, April 7—Thoughts while strolling: How brave humanity is! That smiling starter in front of an avenue hotel used to drive up there in his own limousine. Claude G. Bowers and Will H. Hays bears a resemblance. Lupe Velez always looks on the verge of starting a game of tag.

William J. Glackens, a Philadelphia, Pa., boy, who made good in the city. Strange, how we vibrate to the stray unimportance. I cannot forget the girl on the street corner last night, who wept over a kitten with a crushed paw. Nobody can look so naive as Frank Case.

Something perky about half veils. They suggest a wink—and a slow meander up a side street. No successful writer has abandoned literature so quickly as Anita Loos. One of my favorite people—Edwin Palmer. Clarence Budington Kelland's nickname, "Bud" fits him perfectly.

Those boom-time hotels, which, like cheap champagne, went suddenly dead. One-word description of Barbara Bennett—aloofish. I've never known a lover of books who did not express humility. Nor a Wall Street man who didn't lap up a cocktail. Christopher Morley calls his elderly car "Dean Swift."

Overheard: "She did me down." That's Middle-west! Alan Mulhady still carries the wrist strap cane. Lee Shubert nods quickly like a pigeon. My wife didn't care much for my upsetting that milk on the carpet. I'll stop in at Irene Hayes. In the spring I'll bring these viles!

No performer holds Broadway's affection so sincerely as does Jimmy Durante. In fact, the street has turned out few characters who measure up to him in general good fellowship. It is a prevalent legend that although he shucked his partners of the cabaret—Clayton and Jackson—they still share in Jimmy's enormous income. Every small town had its Jimmy Durante. In other days, they played the piano, ran inglorious errands, expressed a shy pathos, and murmured sudden wisdoms. Usually, they lived on crumbs—sparrows that fell. But somehow, Jimmy was glorified to stage and movie stars, and deserved tribute to his maddening and crackling wit. He's a magnificent rody.

Another of the world's brighteners is Frisco, the stuttering comic. He, too, originally came out of the saloon's back room to Ziegfeldian splendor. For years, he has ranged through taverns of the White Way, witty, likable and expressing genuine human impulses. Frisco has not been so fortunate as Durante, but he has sweetened many sour nooks along the world's strangest boulevard.

Those gray-haired philosophers who run back elevators in apartment houses, and, in leisure, occupy well-worn chairs at side doors, are worth cultivating. I know many, as the result of walking dogs at night. Genial sages, with books and pipes, they absorbed most of the

A Gift For Speaker Rainey

Yosuke Matsuoka, who led Japan's delegation to the League of Nations, and later led it in quitting that august body, is shown as he presented an autographed copy of the book, "Japan's Case in the Sino-Japanese Dispute," to Henry T. world's shocks and are happy in what seems the tedium of obscurity. They are ennobled, too, by a natural piety—gentle spirits of luminous serenity who would not trade places with the mighty around them.

There is some affinity, too, between pipe-smokers, and admirers of the writings of Robert Louis Stevenson. I remember that a co-brother in Gallipoli introduced me to R. L. S. and he never was without his briar. I noticed other enthusiasts for Stevenson loved their pipes and, in many years of observing, I never have run across one who doesn't. Hugh Walpole, an earnest pipist, is a Stevenson fanatic.

Zoe Beckley, one of Park Row's famous sob sisters, now lives on a Connecticut estate, a neatly-sited place, with a farmhouse of stone and a plump orchard. Her study has a serene view of hills, vales and winding creeks. But it's impossible to shake the spell of the city. When thoughts won't come at her typewriter, she commutes to New York. rides in the subway, lunches at some clattery cafe, is jostled by the crowd a while, and goes home, refreshed—and check full of ideas.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, April 8
The sidereal operations of this day are read as quite propitious, especially presaging advancement, promotion, financial increase and the preferment and support of those in power and prestige, who will be in friendly mood to assist in the fulfillment of cherished ambitions.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of progress and prosperity, with much enhancement of the position and personal popularity. A child born on this day should be ambitious, progressive, popular and efficient, attracting the support and preferment of those in places of power and authority. It may, however, incline to expediency rather than principle.

MADISON, Wis.—Cucumber and tobacco growers of Wisconsin are battling a common enemy this year. Tobacco growers, hardly accustomed to battling the tobacco mosaic disease, now are confronted with the necessity of fighting a new mosaic which heretofore has been largely restricted to cucumber and spinach plants. Its discovery in the tobacco fields was announced by James Johnson, of the agricultural staff of the University of Wisconsin.

Ohio Relief Plans To Include Parks

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—Ohio's statewide work relief program would include many conservation projects under plans recommended by the state conservation council.

The council at a meeting yesterday, estimated that the projects would cost $500,000 and suggested that the state relief commission seek a federal grant to finance the work if state funds are not available.

Fifteen projects were included in the council's program, compiled by Conservation Commissioner William H. Reinhart.

The projects would include repair of the Organville dam in Trumbull county, at a cost of $100,000. Two hundred and eighty man days of work would be provided, the council said.

An additional 1,000 days of work would be provided by extending the Defiance fish hatchery at a cost of $600. Besides numerous small projects, the program calls for the creation of 600 small conservation and flood control dams throughout the state. These would cost $123,000 and provide 45,000 man days of work.

Everybody has days when every waking hour is packed with zest of living. Why not make every day like this?

A frequent drawback to fitness is constipation. It may dull your energy, steal your appetite, lower your vitality. Yet it is so easy to overcome.

Try eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Science shows this delicious cereal supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote appetite, and tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. How much safer than taking patent medicines—so often harmful.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Swick Murder Case Reaches Jury Today

CINCINNATI, April 7.—The murder case of Robert Swick, notorious gang leader, was expected to reach the jury today as final arguments continued.

Complaining that police "put me in a class with Fred Burke," Swick broke down and wept twice yesterday on the witness stand. He denied the slaying of Robert Andrew and seven other killings with which police have linked his name. He said he went armed because he was a liquor runner.

Swick was identified yesterday as one of the men who robbed the Phillipsburg, (O.) state bank in 1929 and the Somerville, (O.) bank in 1930. Andrew for whose death Swick is on trial, was shot and his body burned a short time before he was to have appeared as a state witness in the trial of Rodney Ford, who was electrocuted for the slaying of a policeman.

Notre Dame Prexy's Condition Is Serious

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 7.—Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C. S. C., president of the University of Notre Dame, stricken with a throat infection remained in a serious condition today, after receiving the last rites of the Catholic church.

The rites were administered last night at St. Joseph's hospital after two Chicago specialists, Dr. D. O'Connor and Dr. Walter Maguire had held consultation at the priest's bedside. Father O'Donnell was removed to the hospital recently.

Long prominent in the affairs of Notre Dame from which he was graduated at about the same time as the late Coach Knute K. Rockne, Father O'Donnell has been outstanding among Catholic hierarchy in America.

CLEVELAND, April 7.—B. C. Seiple, city employment commissioner, reported today a 48 per cent improvement in employment here the last two weeks of March as compared with the first two weeks of the month.

The increase, he said, "made it possible to show a slight increase in jobs available through the state-city employment bureau in comparison with the February record, and there is evidence that this increasing demand will be even more apparent in April."

hotels and eating places.

German societies in St. Paul, where beer flowed freely at midnight, toasted President Roosevelt and "happy days." A funeral march ushered spiked beer to oblivion.

While H. L. Mencken, author, iconoclast and beer expert of Baltimore was tasting the new brew and pronouncing it "pretty good; not bad at all," Mrs. Ella A. Boole, national head of the W. C. T. U., declared the beer violated the 18th amendment and said:

"When the wet hysteria will have passed, the American people will awaken to the fact that the liquor traffic cannot be controlled because of its inherent nature."

Gangster Problem Unsolved

The problem that the new brew posed for gangsters and racketeers, who dominated much of the illegal beer trade was one yet to be solved. In New York racketeers were reported trying to "persuade" speakeasy owners to go on selling the dubious beverage sponsored by the underworld.

Alfred E. Smith, old foe of prohibition, found himself the centre of felicitations. Brewers hastened to send him their first cases of beer. One dispatched six Clydesdale horses to draw a four-ton brewery stake wagon up to Mr. Smith's fifth avenue home with a case of the new beverage.

In the confusion and frantic efforts by brewers to keep abreast of orders, no estimate could be obtained immediately as to how much of a fillip the legalization of beer has given to business, how much money was spent on beer, or how many men had been put to work. Brewers in Chicago estimated $5,000,000 had gone into circulation there immediately, while a newspaper said about 40,000 persons had got jobs in Illinois as the result of beer from the first few hours sale in Minnesota, the government garnered $100,000 in revenue.

Price of Brew Varies

The price varies. In New York, a much-quoted figure was $2 a case of 24 bottles. The price for a glass was often 10 cents; sometimes a nickel for a small glass, but in hotels and restaurants, it was in many cases 15 cents a glass and sometimes as high as 35 cents a bottle.

Four hundred thousand barrels of beer began rolling away from brewery loading platforms in New York but from there and from other sections came word that the demand leaped ahead of the supply. Milwaukee, home of famous brews, welcomed beer with German bands tooting "Ach Du Lieber Augustiner" and some 200 "soft drink" places selling the new beverage for 10 cents a glass or 15 cents a bottle. Airplanes augmented trucks in deliveries to distant points.

A carnival spirit reigned in St. Louis at midnight, as whistles tooted and 25,000 persons crowded around one brewery alone to cheer as special trains and big trucks rushed the shipment away. Hotels, night clubs and restaurants did a "gold rush" business.

Philadelphia, pronouncing its new brew good, cheered as 10 breweries opened their gates to let the flood out.

Sentenced To Jail

Daughter of "Great Commoner" To Be First "Madame Minister"

Appointment of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen as United States Minister to Denmark Shattered Another Diplomatic Tradition.

WITH PRINCE ERIK OF DENMARK

The appointment of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, former Representative from Florida and daughter of William Jennings Bryan, the "Great Commoner," as United States Minister to Denmark, is not only a triumph for Mrs. Owen, but also a tribute to womanhood in general. For hitherto the job of representing Uncle Sam in foreign countries had been monopolized by men. Mrs. Owen will need little or no coaching in her new duties. She was virtually born to statesmanship. In 1891, at the age of five, she was taken to the House of Representatives by her father, who was then winning his spurs as an ambitious Representative from Illinois. Baby Ruth confided at that time that one day she would return as a Congresswoman, a boast she made good. Mrs. Owen was educated at Monticello Seminary, near her birthplace at Jacksonville, Ill., and at the University of Nebraska. She married Major Reginald Owen, British Army officer, in 1910. Their wedding was the highlight of the season in Washington. On the outbreak of the World War, Major Owen went off to fight for his country, and Mrs. Owen volunteered as a nurse. She served on British fronts in Egypt and Palestine. With the death of her husband from wounds after the Armistice, Mrs. Owen returned to Florida and devoted herself to her four children, Ruth, John, Reginald and Helen. In 1925 she was elected to Congress from the Fourth Florida District, but the wave of wet sentiment that swept the country last year lost her the fight for re-nomination. In Denmark, she will be on fairly familiar ground. When she visited the country in 1930 she made a host of friends, one of whom is Prince Erik, of the Danish royal family. Her appointment to the important diplomatic post marks the second shattering of tradition in favor of women by the Roosevelt Administration, the other occasion being the appointment of Miss Francis Perkins as Secretary of Labor.

News From Court House

Sophia Bendik, has filed suit in common pleas court against Wenzel Sabotka to recover $3,000 and interest claimed owing on a three-year note that had not been renewed. A judgment has been entered in favor of the plaintiff, and this was followed by proceedings in aid of execution being filed.

In the automobile damage action filed in court here by Charles McKinney, 414 Elm Grove, W. Va., against Clarence L. Weaver of Wellsville, Judge W. F. Lones has entered a judgment on the verdict for $2,276 returned by a jury March 28 in favor of the plaintiff. When this case was called for trial, the defendant was not in court. Neither were witnesses present for the defendant.

In a divorce petition filed by Mary E. Hutchinson of 284 N. Lundy st., Salem, against her husband, Bertram E. Hutchinson of Columbiana, the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty are set up as causes of action. The petition declares the couple was married Sept. 16, 1931, and that they have lived apart since Feb. 23, last. Sara Williams, 210 West Second street, East Liverpool, has filed a divorce against her husband, John Williams, said to be residing in Youngstown. They were married here July 27, 1923. It is disclosed by the petition that Williams deserted his wife Dec. 1, 1923, and the ground of willful absence for over a period of three years is set up.

Adda Bettis has been granted a divorce from her husband, Mant Bettis of Hanover township, by Judge W. F. Lones, on the ground of willful absence for over a period of three years. Bettis has been ordered by the court to pay his former wife $150 as alimony and also her counsel fees of $50.

Gross neglect of duty was set up as a cause of action in the divorce act on filed Feb. 17, last, by Mary H. Hutchinson against her husband, John S. Hutchinson, and a decree was granted the plaintiff on this ground upon payment of costs. The custody of a minor child was awarded the plaintiff, and Hutchinson has been directed by court order to pay his former wife $5 weekly for the support of the child.

Dismiss Divorce Action

In the divorce action filed June 2, 1930 by Maud Hays against William J. Hays, there has been a dismissal on motion of the plaintiff, with costs paid.

The receivership action filed by The First National Bank of East Liverpool against The Allison-Harris Construction Co., Judge W. F. Lones has ordered the issue left off the docket.

An action in foreclosure filed Dec.

Dentist Acquitted In Death Of Wife

CLEVELAND, April 7.—Dr. John O. Steer, dentist, was found not guilty late yesterday of the murder of his wife, Vera, last June 13. A jury of seven men and five women deliberated three hours and took three ballots before returning the not guilty verdict.

The trial yesterday was Steer's third. The jury disagreed in the first trial and the second was called a mistrial.

When Common Pleas Judge Virgil J. Terrell called Dr. Steer to the bench to release him the doctor's face was unusually pale and tears were streaming down his cheeks. Throughout the trial court attaches called him "the man with ice water in his veins" because he showed no emotion.

In the first ballot the jury took eleven were for acquittal and one for conviction. The second ballot was the same.

Dr. Steer contended that a burglar entered a bed room window in his home at 13610 Thornhurst avenue, Garfield Heights, the morning his wife was killed and, after knocking the doctor unconscious, beat his wife over the head and shot her.

He told the jury he signed a statement in which he admitted he had killed his wife, after an argument, because he had been questioned so long that he wanted to end the questioning. He was overwrought, nervous and suffering from head wounds, while he was being questioned, he said.

IT'S BEER DAY
FORESTERS AT WORK
REVOLUTION

—By Arthur Brisbane—(Copyright, 1933 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THIS day ends "bone dry" prohibition, that was to empty jails and insane asylums, prevent the young from ever knowing the taste of alcohol and bring the golden age. This is "Beer day," a day to delight old Gambrinus, imaginary Flemish king who may have been Jan Primus, alias John the First, Duke of Brabant, credited with being the first beer-brewer.

He was not the first beer-brewer, for beer was brewed in Egypt thousands of years ago and in other places before Egypt.

YESTERDAY, thousands of New Yorkers stood in line waiting for beer licenses. Sixty-two thousand, it is said, expect to sell beer. Health department licenses not being ready, the fire department issued, temporarily, licenses ordinarily used for storage of gasoline, explosives and other combustibles. That will seem appropriate to the ultra-dry, although 3.2 beer is not exactly "explosive", rather sedative.

"BEER RACKETEERS" have no intention of abandoning a profitable business, and yesterday, as usual, they unloaded beer of poor quality at hundreds of speakeasies in the upper part of New York city, selling proprietors "you'll take it and like it." Proprietors knew what that meant.

Police offer to defend any that complain, but customers of racketeers know better, than to complain. For their beer they pay $35 a keg. Legitimate brewers announce a price of $15 of $16 a keg, enough to take care of all sorts of taxation.

WHILE thousands were applying for beer licenses, and an army of millions preparing to drink beer, a "human army" of another kind tramped the streets looking for some official to whom they might apply for $1-a-day jobs, working in the forests, but could not find anybody with forest jobs to give out.

It was as easy to bring back jobs and prosperity as to bring back beer, the national problem would be simple.

"CIRCUMSTANCES alter cases," What in peace time is a crime—namely, killing strangers—becomes a patriotic virtue when war comes, and killing strangers becomes a nation's business.

Similarly, in this war of depression, what might be called "extravagance" in better times changes to "helpful spending and encouragement of business."

The able to spend should spend now, even though they strain a point to do it. To refrain from buying things that you want or things that you need, when you have the money, is another form of hoarding.

Every dollar put in circulation now does duty doubly and quadruply, whether it be used for replenishing wardrobes, new household equipment, furniture, automobiles, renovating, painting and otherwise improving houses. All money spent now represents literally patriotic spending.

REVOLUTION always means great enthusiasm, a desire to do something new. The French revolution, objecting to established religion, decided that there was only one God and ordered worship of "the supreme being." Russia's revolution officially eliminates that supreme being, calls religion "the opium of people," putting the people to sleep, making them obey orders of their exploiters.

Nazis representing revolution in Germany would rewrite the constitution of the Lutheran church. Thirty-nine million German Lutherans, practically the entire Protestant church in Germany, are to see the ancient swastika emblem taking its place beside the cross.

THE church constitution is to be rewritten and German Protestants marrying members of a foreign race will be excluded from the church. It will be laid down as a tenet of the church that if Christ came back, he would lead the Nazis against Communism.

The Old Testament is to be banned, and peddlers hawk a pamphlet accusing Jews of planning to murder Hitler, crying out: "Murder of Hitler! The Jews demand murder of Hitler!"

The Old Testament is banned, presumably, because written by Jews.

Not ready to give up Christianity entirely, the Hitlerites pass over the fact that the mother of Christ was a Jewess and his disciples Jews. Possibly Herr Hitler, a man of great energy and a violently effective orator, has stirred up hatred that will get beyond his control.

Friendship Is Strained Now

The friendly diplomatic relations which Sir Esmond Ovey (left), British Ambassador to Moscow, established during this meeting with Michael I. Kalinin (right), representing the Soviet Union, are believed to be nearing a break with the departure of the British Envoy from Moscow. Sir Esmond was summoned to London to confer with the British Cabinet in connection with the arrest of several British engineers by Soviet authorities on a charge of espionage.

Banker at Prison Chores

It is quite a change from the swivel chair and mahogany desk of a bank president to a wheelbarrow full of rocks, but John A. Deery, former president of the closed Salem Trust Company, an affiliate of the Federal National Bank, seems to be bearing up all right at that. He is shown at work on the Essex County, Mass., Prison Farm, where he is serving a year's sentence after pleading guilty to accepting fictitious obligations and making loans to insolvent individuals.

Our National Fruit

The eagle is our national bird, the stars and stripes our national flag, and if we have a national fruit it must be the cherry which the founder of our country made famous. This is fortunate for patriotic housewives since there are so many delectable dishes which can be made with cherries, and the tart sweet taste of the fruit itself appeals to so many palates. Here are two recipes for the use of cherries which will enable housewives to be patriotic and popular at the same time.

Black Jewel Salad: To the syrup from an 8-ounce can of Hawaiian pineapple tidbits add enough syrup from one cup of canned pitted black cherries to make two cups, and bring to boiling. Dissolve in this one package of lemon gelatin, and cool. When it begins to set, add the tidbits, the cherries and six slices of stuffed olives. Turn into individual molds, or into a flat shallow pan, and chill. Turn the individual molds out, or cut the flat sheet into squares, and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise garnish. Serves eight.

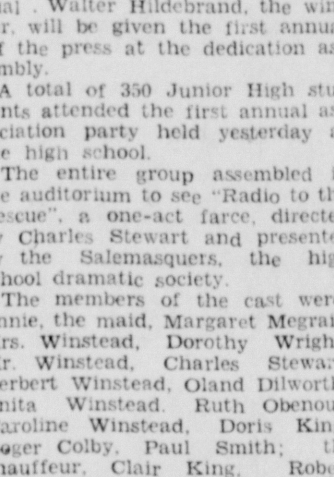

Even In Soup

Red Cherry Soup: Mix two teaspoons cornstarch with two tablespoons cold water, and add to the juice from a quart can of sour pitted cherries with two tablespoons cold water, two tablespoons sugar and one tablespoon lemon juice. Cook until thickened, stirring to prevent lumping. Chill. Serve cold, with a few cherries garnishing each cup. Serves six.

HELENA, Mont.—Montana must be a man's state—boys outnumber girls in the public schools, according to a state department of public instruction survey. At the last school census there were 82,843 boys and 78,066 girls listed in the various public institutions.

SUBLETE, Kan. — A Bible with ten in verse would be more readable than the Bible in its present style, G. A. Tyler of Sublette believes. Accordingly, he has begun the task of rewriting the scriptures. He has finished about 400 verses.

The chief executive also signed a bill by Senator W. H. Herner (D) of Huron giving the director of highways authority to limit the amount of bond to 10 per cent of the capital of the surety company. Any bond in excess of that amount must be reinsured in another company. The highway director under provisions of the law also could require the contractor to furnish an additional surety bond if the original surety became insolvent.
Chauffeur's licenses for next year will first be granted for only six months and then in July a new license for a full year will be issued. The governor signed the bill by senator D. J. Gunsett, (D) of Van Wert changing the time of issuing chauffeurs' licenses from January to July.

Urges Appraisal Of All Children

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—Careful appraisal of all children, with respect to their mental capacity and content was advocated here today by Dr. R. E. Bushong, superintendent of the Lima state hospital.
Dr. Bushong was a speaker at the annual Ohio state educational conference.

Such an appraisal, he said, "is fully as important as the consideration given the physical side of the child's life, for mental attitudes and personality kinks may be just as crippling as any physical anomaly or disturbance."
"Morbidity unwholesome attitudes are at the root of all misconduct, delinquency and crime, to say nothing of their influence in causing unhappiness, inefficiency, dependency, eccentricity, and actual mental disease."
"The most desirable time to combat and straighten out untoward attitudes is in the infancy. This is generally during the pre-school period or during the early elementary grades. Most patterns have been created before the child enters schools, which offers a real challenge to the teacher who is called upon to assume disciplinary as well as educational responsibilities."

Changed Major League Clubs Prepared For Titular Contests

Altered Lineups, New Managers Take Up War Clubs Wednesday

BY HERBERT W. BARKER.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 7.—Major league baseball clubs will resume business at the old stands next Wednesday but they'll hardly look the same.

The off-season set up a new all-time record for player exchanges and with the usual quota of freshmen breaking into the lineups, some of the clubs will be all but unrecognizable to home-town fans.

All 16 Clubs Changed

All the returns are not yet in but a survey of the situation today makes it appear that only five of the 16 clubs will open the new season with the same lineups that carried on in the closing days of the 1932 season—the New York Yankees, Washington Senators and St. Louis Browns of the American league, and the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs of the National.

The Browns are counting again on the defensive skill of Burns, Melillo, Levey and Scharen, and the world champion Yankees probably will stand pat on the Gehrig-Lazzeri-Crosetti-Sewell combination, although Bill Werber may yet beat Crosetti out of the shortstop berth. The Senators have no worries with Kuhl, Myer, Cronin and Bluege.

Gibson Satisfied

George Gibson of the Pirates, is satisfied with Suhr, Piet, Vaughan and Traynor and the Cubs have no kicks on Grimm, Billy Herman, English and Koenig.

Every one of the other 11 clubs will show at least one change in the first lineups with first base shifts the most prominent. The Brooklyn Dodgers, Cincinnati Reds, Chicago White Sox and probably the Phillies, all will open with men at that post.

The Dodgers have plugged their one infield weakness with Joe Judge. The Reds will have Jim Bottomley, erstwhile Cardinal, at that spot and Manager Lou Focaccia will resume his place there for the White Sox.

Don Hurst Signs

Don Hurst, Phillies' slugger, finally has agreed to terms, but probably will not be in shape for the opening.

"Who Has Greatest Pair of Legs?" Opinions of Sports Experts Vary

BY PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 7.—Who has the greatest pair of legs in the world?

No, no, I don't mean the kind Marlene Dietrich puts on view for the edification of the tired business man. I mean athletic legs, which stress utility rather than beauty.

There has been no much discussion about legs—aside from the ever entertaining criticisms of the Folies, Scandals and Vanities variety—that the writer felt he couldn't go on living without settling this momentous question.

Results Surprising

Therefore, opinion of sport leaders who may be presumed to know their athletic legs were sought, and with some surprising results.

It was agreed that no athlete who hadn't stood the test of at least ten years' competition was worthy of a vote. On that basis, John McGraw, former manager of the Giants, who has seen all kinds of legs in 40 years of baseball, had no hesitancy in naming Rabbit Maranville as the owner of the most remarkable pair of legs he had ever seen in action. The Rabbit's legs have stood the jarring starts and stops of infield work on all kinds of diamonds for twenty years and they're still carrying him along.

Dan Ferris of the A. A. U. picked Clarence De Mar, whose dogs have pounded pavements in Marathon races for a score of years and who can still make all the youngsters hustle to beat him.

Ed Moss of the U. S. L. T. A. thought Bill Tilden's 20 years of tennis competition all over the world placed him on top.

Helen Wills Moody Back On Trail Of National Tennis Championship

BY RALPH B. JORDAN
International News Service Sports Writer

Helen Wills Moody is back on the trail of the national tennis championships and with a vengeance.

The lithe San Franciscan, who was passed up in the American rankings because she spent last season in Europe, has opened her 1933 campaign with the main objective of regaining her American laurels—laurels which will fit naturally on her dark locks, having been there a number of times previously.

And judging from her exhibition matches on the coast, Mrs. Moody is very likely to attain her goal. She is apparently the same marvelous feminine tennis machine which has dominated the courts of the world for almost a decade, sweeping to another Wimbledon title last summer while her fellow Californian, Helen Jacobs, of Berkeley, took No. 1 in the American rankings.

"My tennis seems to be about the same as ever to me," Mrs. Moody said.

The question of retirement came up. "Oh," she exclaimed, "I have no idea of quitting tennis, at least not for a long time. I love the game too much. I get real pleasure out of it."

The tennis queen is a staunch supporter of the proposed U. S. Lawn Tennis Association's open championships.

"That is a fine idea, I think," she commented. "I can see no reason why an amateur shouldn't play in an open. I'd love to myself and intend to if the open tournament is held at a convenient time."

Mrs. Moody carries her famous unperturbed temperament—"Little Poker Face"—off the courts as well as on and refuses to be drawn into controversies.

When told that Bill Tilden had said in Los Angeles that there are 100 men who can beat her, she replied with a smile:

"Just a publicity stunt for Mr. Tilden. But I won't answer him for controversies are so useless and peace is so precious."

Pivot Play Under Probe

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 7.—The "post" or "pivot" play in basketball was expected to get a thorough going-over today at a meeting of the rules committee of the National Association of Basketball Coaches in which the teachers of the game were to settle on what changes in the rules, if any, they would recommend to the joint rules committee later this week.

Most of the suggestions for rule changes made so far deal with the "post" play in that section of the court within the free-throw area. Present rules say a guard may not come within three feet of the pivot man in that section of the court. The coaches contend this favors the offense over the defense, at least in some sections of the country.

Paul Crouch, star Salem pitcher, will leave Monday for Davenport, Ia., having been contracted by the Davenport club of the Three-Eye league for the 1933 season.

BOWLERS CRASH PINS FOR HIGH TOURNEY MARKS

New Records Set Up for All-Events, Doubles; Event Ends Monday

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 7.—Predictions that the general scoring in the 33rd annual American Bowling Congress would be sensationally high have come true. With the meet winding up Monday, five doubles teams already have counted better than 1,300 in the two-man event class. Nine individuals have scored 700 or better in the singles and ten bowlers have soared over the 1900 mark in the all events division.

Set All-Time Records

The 2,060 leading all events count and the sensational 1,415 doubles top both are all-time records.

While only two totals of better than 3,000 have been recorded in the team division, 56 more top notch out of town quintets are scheduled tonight and as many more will be in action Saturday and Sunday. It is expected that several heavy totals will be registered in the main event before the curtain is rung down Monday.

Another capacity crowd saw the Held Funeral Directors, Columbus favorites, topple 3,018 for second position on the team event last night. The Dows Chocolates, Lockport, N. Y., held fourth place with a 2,933 score, while Burke Opticians of South Bend, Ind., went into a tie for fifth with Youngs Coca Colas of Detroit, each had 2,932.

A sell-out is expected tonight with the Dayton, O., Sohios scheduled on the late shift. This team annexed the title last year at Detroit, playing as the Jefferson Clothiers to crash a score of 3,108.

PLAY GOLF with Seymour Dunn

Creator of Champions

WHEN YOU go out on a golf course to play golf—PLAY GOLF—don't play at trying to correct the faults in your swing.

The golf swing is a thing of many parts, and your conscious attention can be focused attentively on only one thing at a time. It cannot, during the execution of a shot, be directing your swing.

Your swing should be automatic, requiring no attention. But to concentrate all your attention on playing the shot you must be confident that your swing is correct.

If it is not correct as well as automatic you should not go out on a golf course and try to play. Rather go to a good instructor and under his tutelage practice separately the various parts until the correct golf swing becomes a habit. Then, when you go out to play you will really play and enjoy yourself and not bore your companions.

You can learn better indoors in winter than you can outdoors in summer because you cannot go out and try to play and only undo everything you try to do. Of course, the best motto for anyone learning golf or trying to improve his game is this—Rome was not built in a day.

From Southern Camps

(By Associated Press)

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Si Johnson, one of the Cincinnati Reds' star pitchers, today bore a painful injury suffered in practice when a hot liner from the bat of Chick Hefey struck his left thigh. He will be laid up a few days, but remains the leading candidate to hurl the opening game against the Pittsburgh Pirates next week.

CHATTANOOGA—Hank Leiber, the 21-year-old collegian from Phoenix, Ariz., who has had only one year of minor league experience appears to be making a strong bid for the left field berth with the New York Giants.

Leiber is about as fast as his rival, Joe Moore; he has been fielding brilliantly and hitting at a terrific clip in the spring exhibitions. He rapped out two smart singles in three times up against Chattanooga yesterday.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—The New York Yankees who are noted mostly for their flashy pitching as well as for their slugging, have been getting their exhibitions against southern association teams.

They have run up three straight shutouts and haven't been scored on in 29 innings.

CHICAGO—With Kiki Cuyler definitely out of the lineup until July, reports were strengthened today that the Cubs were out to buy an established outfield regular for immediate delivery.

Cuyler preceded the Cubs to Chicago yesterday and was informed by Dr. Edwin W. Rycerson that the bone in his right leg was badly broken and that the best he could hope for was duty around July 4. Vince Barton, reserve Cub outfielder, also arrived with Cuyler for treatment of an eye infection.

CINCINNATI—Home again. Cincinnati's Reds waited today for the sun to dry their sodden ball park so they could practice for the exhibition series with the Cleveland Indians, opening tomorrow.

Because of the field's condition, the game today with the New York Yankees was called off.

LOUISVILLE—Fred Walker is making it tougher and tougher for Manager Joe McCarthy to make up his mind about what reserve outfielders his New York Yankees should carry this season.

The former International league flash subbed for the ailing Babe Ruth against Louisville yesterday, batted out a triple and two singles

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

Ever since his kid days Phil Lord has fostered an ambition to sail around the world.

Lord, who is the Seth Parker of the networks, is in Florida on resting orders of his physician, but meanwhile near his Long Island home is docked a schooner 210 feet long, undergoing repairs preparatory for the sailing date.

It will have a crew of 22, made up of Lord's school and college chums, who like himself, are around 30 years of age. The trip probably will last a year, and while away Lord hopes to make a dozen or so broadcast back home.

Meanwhile the Seth Parker Sunday night half hour goes along without Seth himself, and will continue to do so while he is away. It is being put on as "Seth Parker's Neighbors".

John Mills, one-fourth of the Mills Brothers, is seriously ill with pneumonia, in Chicago, forcing the quartet off WABC-CBS for the last program of their present series which concludes next Monday night. Their time is being filled with other features.

Where Two Died in Train Wreck

Here is the scene of the smash at Dover, Del., where the train, carrying the Boston Red Sox baseball team North from their Southern training quarters, jumped a switch and plunged off the tracks. The engineer and fireman were pinned under the locomotive, which turned over on its side, and killed. None of the ball players was injured.

SYNOPSIS

Sam Perkins, Dr. Montague Threadgold's bottle boy, meets his employer's latest assistant, Dr. John Wolfe on the latter's arrival at little Navestock in a wet winter dusk. Sam notes mentally that the new doctor's luggage is very light as he conducts the stranger to the Threadgold house, where he meets Dr. Threadgold—chubby, sleek, and "the most affable of men". Conducted to his top-story room, Wolfe swiftly recalls his seven years of work and study—how he earned his way by boxing exhibitions as a country fair "bruiser", as a tavern singer, and as a railroad laborer. And now, after all Wolfe is almost penniless. At dinner, Wolfe impresses Dr. Threadgold's wife as a hungry, "raw gawk of a man, silent and sulky". She is talking on medical training and mentions Sir Joshua Kermody, senior physician at Guy's hospital, as an ideal instructor. The meal is interrupted when Sir George Griggs, profane from pain, arrives with his shoulder hurt after being thrown from his hunter. The blustery baronet is infuriated over Dr. Threadgold's dilatory diagnosis. Wolfe shows skill in stripping the coat off the hunt victim who turns to the young doctor and asks Wolfe to attend to him.

CHAPTER FIVE

"Look here—just take this on. I don't want to be fooled about any longer."

Wolfe glanced at Threadgold. The little man's face looked pink and suffused. His eyes were big behind his glasses.

"If you care to let my assistant examine you, Sir George—"

"Yes, I do."

"Very well, sir, very well, I have nothing more to say."

Threadgold pivoted round on one check-patterned leg, strutted to the hearthrug, pulled the lapels of his coat forward, and stood with chest expanded.

In five minutes Wolfe had Sir George Griggs stretched upon the sofa. The surgeon had taken off his left boot and was sitting on the edge of the sofa with his heel in the baronet's armpit.

"I shall have to hurt you badly—for about ten seconds, sir."

"Go on, I'm not a baby."

"Catch hold of Mr. Ruston's hand. Nothing like something to grip. Now, hold on."

There was a moment of writhing, of grim, clenched anguish as Wolfe pulled at the arm and worked at the dislocated shoulder.

"That's good."

"What—all over?"

"Yes."

The big man lay on the sofa and panted, while Mr. Ruston flapped his hand.

"I say, that was a twister!"

"Ged—you gave me a squeezing."

"Get me a 'peg', someone; it's made me feel pretty funny."

He was sweating Dr. Threadgold turned and rang the bell.

"Head of the bone was out, was it?"

"Yes. If you can sit up in a minute, sir, I'll just see that everything is all right."

Sir George sat up readily enough while Wolfe manipulated the left arm very gently and made sure that the head of the bone was back in its normal position.

"Yes, that's all right, sir."

"Sykes, a glass of brandy and water."

Dr. Threadgold lingered at the door.

"I say, sir, I am confoundedly obliged to you."

Wolfe smiled.

"Oh, that's all part of the campaign. I shall have to tie you up to keep that shoulder quiet. What about your forehead?"

"A little graveling, isn't it?"

"Yes, nothing serious. I'll wash it, and patch you up with a bit of plaster. By the way, though—"

He remembered suddenly that he was in Dr. Threadgold's consulting-room, and that a hot and rather humiliated little man was fidgeting on the hearthrug.

"Dr. Threadgold will tell you what precautions you ought to take."

"Oh, all right," said the baronet, gulping brandy and water.

Half an hour later Mr. Ruston was driving Sir George Griggs homeward in his gig. It was still raining hard, and the wet streets of Navestock were deserted. The big man had so far recovered himself that he was able to see the humor of much that had passed.

"What a confounded old woman! I always knew Threadgold was a duffer. I wouldn't have come within a mile of him only I knew Old-

Flashes of Life

SALEM, W. Va.—A school teacher, a pupil and an architect are sharing honors in a "most embarrassing moment" contest.

Nellie H. Randolph, instructor in the Smithfield high school, told her pupils to write various companies for house plans to use in their studies.

Josephine Horner sent a polite letter to a firm in Philadelphia. Yesterday the company sent an architect to Salem with the question: "And now, Miss Horner, will you please show me the lot on which you want to build the house?"

DENVER—Carriage blocks and hitching posts must go. Chief of Police Albert Clark declared the relics of the motorless age to be "nuisances and dangerous to life and limb", and ordered city employees to remove them.

STILLWATER, Okla.—A turkey hen belonging to an Oklahoma experiment station is no ordinary hen. She has set an egg-laying record that would make the average chicken hen ashamed. In the past year she laid 295 eggs. Station attendants, explaining that turkeys usually lay only enough eggs for one hatching a year, claim a world's record.

PHILADELPHIA—Patrolman Edward E. Simon went to a dentist and ordered a set of "store teeth" yesterday. Then he pleaded with Judge Raymond MacNeille to release William Mills, the man who knocked his teeth out. The court, impressed with Simon's plea that Mills was the sole support of a large family, released the prisoner and wrote the mayor, commanding the officer.

ST. PAUL—A St. Paul father and son, sentenced for liquor law violations, will take turns in jail. Because another son, 12 years old, would have been left alone if the father and elder brother had been sent to jail together, the father, Anthony Schaffer, will serve his 100 days sentence first. George, 29, will begin serving his 30 days sentence when the father is released.

GREENSBURG, Pa.—Cotton dresses—not to exceed $2 each—are to be worn by girls of Greensburg high school's senior class instead of the customary caps and gowns this year, it was decided recently. The move was decided upon in the interests of economy.

What's the Value of a TRADE-MARK?

TODAY the Chesterfield trade-mark is very valuable. Back of it is the good will of thousands—perhaps hundreds of thousands—of smokers.

Chesterfield cigarettes were first manufactured more than twenty-five years ago. At the start, they were sold at a loss, but the quantity sold increased steadily from year to year, until now Chesterfields are sold in great volume at a very small percentage of profit.

The Chesterfield trade-mark, as indicated above, is registered in the United States Patent Office. This means that the United States Government says that only Chesterfield may use this trade-mark for cigarettes.

This is not only for our protection, but for yours as well, because what the Chesterfield trade-mark really means is that you and all Chesterfield smokers will get Chesterfields manufactured under the same formula, by the same people, and in all respects absolutely the same, in every package you buy, year in and year out.

Wherever you buy them, in this or in any other country, you can depend upon the Chesterfield trade-mark.

They're Milder... They Taste Better
